Hanoi Gives No Response To U.S. Peace Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Communists have not yet given any indication that would show whether President Johnson's campaign for peace in Viet Nam has been a success or a failure, according to two high administration officials.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and McGeorge Bundy, Johnson's assistant for national security affairs, both said in public statements there has been a lack of clear response to U.S. efforts to lead the North Vietnamese to the negotiating table.

Johnson, meanwhile, planned to meet today with William Porter, the U.S. deputy ambassador to South Viet Nam. Porter is returning to Saigon this week after a review of the Viet Nam situation with officials here.

Humphrey, who returned Friday from a trip to India in which he met with Russian Premier Alexei Kosygin, said "We have not had as much response as I would have liked or our government had hoped" to the peace offensive.

"As yet Hanoi has given no direct indication that it seeks peace," Humphrey added. "It still suffers from some euphoria of its so-called inevitable victory."

The vice president cautioned that "I don't think he should be overly optimistic about the chances of a favorable reply from Hanoi."

Bundy said that "so far we have no response to prove either success or failure" in the peace drive. His statement echoed one made by Johnson in his State of the Union message Wednesday.

Humphrey and Bundy declined to discuss details of the vice president's meetings with Kosygin while both men were in New Delhi to attend the funeral of Indian Premier Lal Bahadur Shastri.

The vice president would say only that the talks were "Frank, candid, constructive, polite and reasonable." Bundy described them as "important and useful," if only because they represented the highest level Soviet-American contact since Kosygin became premier.

Four-Day Lull Starting At Noon Thursday

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. troops were ordered today to observe a formal cease-fire during the Chinese lunar new year and officials disclosed they had launched a giant psychological warfare campaign to win Viet Cong defectors during the holiday.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U. S. forces in Viet Nam, ordered the cease-fire beginning at noon Thursday and lasting until 6 p.m. Sunday. His orders followed similar directives given South Vietnamese troops by their commanders.

The truce will be the second cease-fire in less than a month, although the 30-hour Christmas agreement was broken by the Viet Cong almost as soon as it began.

Why Go Back?

The psychological war campaign, described by U. S. officials as one of the most intense in recent history, was launched several days ago when the guerrillas began filtering into their home villages for the Tet holiday.

Robert F. Delaney, 40, of Centerville, Mass., a special assistant to Brig. Gen. John N. Freund, who heads the campaign, said it is designed to ask the guerrillas: "Why go back? Why not stay home?"

Twenty specially designed planes circled over guerrilla haunts and dropped thousands of leaflets and surrender passes and played taped messages urging the VC to defect.

A special theme song called "Tet Without You," written by one of Viet Nam's most popular songwriters was being broadcast over radio stations and 100 Vietnamese song and dance teams were sent on tours by sampans, truck and helicopter with skits built around the propaganda offensive.

Westmoreland's directive today ordered the 190,000 American troops in Viet Nam to fire only in self defense during Tet.

The announcement followed three separate Viet Cong raids today within earshot of Saigon, all of which were repulsed by government defenders. At least 30 guerrillas were killed in one abortive raid.

VC Force Blasted

The Communist assaults followed attacks Sunday by 18 U.S. planes which bombed and strafed an estimated 600 Viet Cong troops found hiding in a heavily-wooded region 20 miles west of Saigon. U.S. spokesmen said at least 40 guerrillas were killed in the six-hour barrage of bombs, rockets and 20 millimeter cannon fire.

Korean Marines today completed a successful operation in the Central Highlands credited with killing more than 500 Viet Cong during its four-week duration. U.S. Marines continued a similar sweep in the highlands south of Da Nang, which has resulted in 29 guerrillas killed in five days, while U.S. 1st Infantry Division troops reported 22 Viet Cong killed Sunday and today in a Mekong Delta operation north-west of Saigon.

For the 22nd consecutive day, U.S. and Vietnamese planes stayed away from Communist North Viet Nam. There were 394 combat sorties over the South Sunday and today by U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots. This included a mission at dawn Sunday by giant B-52 bombers from Guam which struck suspected Communist positions along the coast about 400 miles north of Saigon.

The biggest Viet Cong attack near Saigon today was against the Thu Duc Reserve Officers' school only four miles north of the capital. The Viet Cong opened up with mortars but the two companies of Vietnamese defenders drove them back with heavy artillery after flares lit the Communist positions. At least 30 guerrillas were known dead.

Eight Vietnamese civilians in a nearby dependent housing area were killed by the mortar fire.

Second Attack

A second attack was launched by the Communists on a Vietnamese paratroop battalion

President Needs Luck To Control Budget Deficit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is going to need a lot of luck to keep the federal budget deficit in the coming fiscal year down to the $13 billion he's talking about.

The reason: Viet Nam. Johnson has budgeted $10.5 billion for the Viet Nam war during fiscal 1967, which begins

July 1. He sends the budget to Congress next Monday.

But high administration officials call the estimated cost of the Viet Nam war "highly uncertain." They admit costs could go up if the war gets worse.

In his State of the Union message last week, Johnson himself sounded this warning: "If the necessities of Viet Nam require it, I will not hesitate to return to the congress for additional appropriations and additional revenues."

On the other hand, a sudden settlement in Viet Nam could reduce federal outlays and make the budget look much better.

Johnson projects a $1.8 billion deficit in fiscal 1967 from outlays of $112.8 billion and revenues of $111 billion.

The revenue side of the equation looks pretty safe. It's based on the reasonable assumption that an expanding economy will bring in upwards of $6 billion more than in the current fiscal year.

The big question mark is spending. Viet Nam costs are going up $5.8 billion in the new budget. And Johnson intends to make good on his pledge to give the country butter as well as guns by asking Congress to increase outlays for his Great Society programs by $3.2 billion.

Johnson said his proposed budget for next year would include "improvements for both operations and construction" at junior colleges.

"Community colleges can provide quality education close to home at relatively low cost to the student and equip the student either for transfer to four-year institutions or for a productive skill needed by our complex economy," Romney told the college presidents, deans and junior college board of trustee members.

State Democratic Leader Raymond Dzendzel of Detroit said the Legislature was willing to give "needed attention to accelerating our community college program."

Romney and Dzendzel cited increased aid for each community college student last year from $224 in fiscal 1964-65 to $275 in fiscal 1965-66.

The governor said he would propose "significant increases" two or three times greater for construction and vocational facilities for the community colleges next year.

Romney urged the school leaders to work together on a regional basis and not to spend time seeking status as four year institutions.

Negro Given Quick OK For Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Banking Committee today unanimously approved the nomination of Robert C. Weaver to be the first Negro Cabinet member.

Weaver, named by President Johnson last week to be secretary of housing and urban development, won unqualified praise from the committee including three members who had opposed him five years ago.

The committee approved Weaver after a brief hearing. It also approved Robert C. Wood as the new department's undersecretary. Chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said he would return the committee's action to the Senate today.

Weaver has been federal housing administrator since 1961. Wood is head of the political science department at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Quick Senate approval of both nominations was expected.

Robertson gave an indication of the support for Weaver when he said shortly after Johnson announced the nomination Thursday that he expected no difficulty in confirmation.

Also switching to support of Weaver today were Senators John Sparkman, D-Ala., and Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah.

Longevity Recipe

CASABLANCA, Morocco (UPI) — Hadj Mohammed Ben Mbark, who claimed to be 165 years old, has died here, survived by some 250 children and grandchildren. He was married five times, and one of the sons, living in southern Morocco, claims to be 110. Hadj Mohamed attributed his long life to a healthy diet of vegetables and milk products.

Girl, 20, Kissed And Strangled

CHICAGO (UPI) — A crewcut ex-sailor "trying to forget a shaky past" signed a 12-page statement today in which he admitted strangling a pretty Illinois coed with her own blouse while he kissed her, police said.

William H. Butler, 23, of Jersey City, N. J., signed the statement less than 12 hours after he walked up to a policeman in a downtown bus terminal and said he was wanted for the slaying last Friday of Barbara Jean Dixon, 20, near Boise, Idaho.

Miss Dixon, of Evanston, Ill., had gone to Idaho to attend Boise College. Her body was found along a desert road near Boise Saturday.

"I don't know why I did it, but I did it," police quoted Butler. "I'm sorry," he said. Authorities said Butler was drifting west to escape what he said was "a shaky past." He said he left a wife and 18-month-old child behind in Jersey City.

He met Miss Dixon on a bus in Chicago, and rode with her to Idaho. "I sort of fell in love with her," he said.

Steelmakers Plan Increased Output

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Major steelmakers, citing quick depletion of inventories, are planning production increases into February and March, Steel Magazine said today.

The national weekly said big users soon will resume buying at a rate that fully reflects heavy consumption. Inventory liquidation is coming to a rapid conclusion because:

—Steel consumption is at a high rate.

—Inventories aren't being cut back as far as they would be if consumption weren't so high because users realize that they must maintain fairly high stocks.

—Possibilities of price increases and a worsening in the Viet Nam situation also encourage fairly large inventories.

Automobile plants, the biggest consumers, are using steel at a high rate. The auto industry's projects for this month call for the assembly of 155,000 trucks and buses compared with 144,926 in January, 1965.

They also plan to build 830,000 passenger cars, nearly 3,000 more than in the same year ago month.

Steel said that some auto plants are two to three weeks ahead of schedule in steel inventory reduction.

About the time the auto industry returns to the market en masse, seasonal demands of the next largest user, construction industry, will be developing.

In addition, Steel said that orders are improving pretty much across the board as a strengthening in demand for the light, flat rolled products, such as hot rolled, cold rolled and coated sheets, is noticeable.

Lead times on all forms of steel are normal, but there's a fairly good chance that deliveries will begin to lengthen somewhat in March and April.

In addition there's the possibility that the Viet Nam war will escalate to the extent that the government will impose controls on steel.

The publication said the pickup in bookings prompted continued boosts in the nation's steel output and reactivation of furnaces in the Youngstown, Buffalo and Chicago districts.

Output last week was estimated at 2,285,000 tons, 3.2 per cent over the preceding week.

Liuzzo Murder Car For Sale

DETROIT (UPI) — Anthony Liuzzo, husband of slain white civil rights worker Viola Liuzzo, said Sunday he was contacting the FBI in an attempt to stop the sensational advertising of the car in which his wife was killed.

An advertisement in the Birmingham News Saturday called the car a "crowd-getter" and listed the 1963 Oldsmobile, complete with bullet holes, for $3,500.

Mrs. Liuzzo, a Detroit housewife, was fatally shot the night of March 25 as she drove along U.S. 240 following the Selma-to-Montgomery "Freedom" march. Liuzzo said at the time of the slaying he was financing the auto through General Motors Acceptance Corp., and that afterwards he arranged for the company to dispose of the auto.

"Notice — Do you need a crowd getter?" the advertisement said. "I have a 1963 Oldsmobile two-door in which Mrs. Viola Liuzzo was killed. Bullet holes and everything still intact. Ideal to bring in crowds. $3,500."

No name or phone number was listed and prospective buyers were instructed to write to a post box in care of the newspaper.

Nigeria Revolt Crushed; Nation Ruled By Army

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — An interim military government today ruled Africa's most populous nation, brought to the brink of civil war in an abortive coup by dissident junior officers.

Maj. Gen. Aguiyi (Johnny) Ironsi, 41, Nigerian Army chief of staff, Sunday night said in a radio broadcast he agreed to a request from the cabinet to head the temporary military regime. The posts of prime minister and president were suspended, as was parliament.

The whereabouts of Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa and Finance Minister Chief Festus Okotie-Eboh remained unknown. They vanished Saturday during the lightning one-day coup attempt launched from key regions throughout the country.

Nigeria, which has a population of 55.6 million, had been considered a model of democracy in the five years since it gained independence from Britain. Much of this was due to the guidance of Balewa, a moderate surrounded by impatient African leaders.

There was speculation Balewa and his finance minister were kidnapped by the rebels and taken from Lagos to the dissident stronghold of Kaduna, capital of the vast northern region. It also was thought they might be in Calabar, in Eastern Nigeria, also reported under rebel control.

Nigeria, twice the size of California, is bound by the Atlantic Ocean, Niger, Cameroon and Dahomey. A nation of more than 200 ethnic groups, about 44 per cent of Nigerians are Moslem and 22 per cent Christian.

(State Department officials said in Washington the situation posed "no known difficulties" for the 5,800 Americans in Nigeria, about one fourth government employees at the Kano missile tracking station. A spokesman said the attempted revolt bore no anti-American overtones.)

For the 22nd consecutive day, U.S. and Vietnamese planes stayed away from Communist North Viet Nam. There were 394 combat sorties over the South Sunday and today by U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots. This included a mission at dawn Sunday by giant B-52 bombers from Guam which struck suspected Communist positions along the coast about 400 miles north of Saigon.

Schools Specify Reasons Behind Millage Request

The Escanaba Area Board of Education, after a year of grace with a balanced budget, is back in the election business again.

Two questions will be considered in a special election Feb. 1 — a bond issue asking $1.45 million for elementary school construction and renewal of 3.0 mills of a 3.8 mill operating tax which expires this year.

Neither question, the Board emphasizes, is one of choice.

Operating millage elections have been a sore spot in the Escanaba Area. The last one — 4.5 mills for five years — passed Dec. 22, 1964, by only three votes.

Approval came in a repeat election after a defeat earlier in the year of a 4.0-mill request. The Board is still paying back the $125,000 loss sustained in 1964 operations.

Millage Expires
The 3.8-Mill extra operational tax voted in 1960 expired with last year's tax bill.

At issue with the request for three mills is about $150,000 of the school district's operating budget. The figure represents nearly 10 per cent of the district budget of over $1.6 million.

In asking renewal, the Board of Education states in a prepared fact sheet:

• The costs of public education are increasing yearly. One recent study (Local School Expenditures: 1970 projections, by the Council of State Governments) indicates that over the nation as a whole, the total amount spent on public education in 1970 will be double that spent in 1962. Another study indicates a national figure of 13 per cent this year over last.

• Costs of operating Escanaba Area Public Schools are increasing. Supplies and materials become more costly each year. Salaries, particularly for teachers, need to be increased if we are to maintain a competitive position in filling or staff.

• Local costs should be increased by the improvement of programming for our pupils and by expanding special services.

• A skeleton budget prepared for the 1966-67 school year would indicate a need of $1,797,000. This is approximately $100,000 more than for the current year.

• The improved state aid formula passed by the State Legislature last year will provide some additional funds. However, any additional funds will not be sufficient to counteract the loss of 3.8 mills locally.

• Any help from federal sources is to finance added or improved programs and is not to be used to support existing programs and expenses.

Dairying Ends Surplus Status

The new look in dairying in early 1966 shows that surpluses are passing out of the picture. Instead of wrestling with excess supplies, the problem is becoming one of finding enough milk and dairy products to fill market needs. The U.S. Department of Agriculture figures show Commodity Credit Corp. dairy inventories are down. As of mid-December butter stocks for example were almost at the vanishing point at 20 million pounds.

Butter production in 1965 was 7 per cent less than in 1964. More significantly it was off 20 per cent in November and 25 per cent in December. Milk production in 1965 was one per cent lower than in 1964.

These are indications now that production may be down about 3 per cent during the first quarter of 1966 compared to the same period of 1965. This in light of an increased population of some 3 million milk drinkers in the past year. If this prediction occurs, but ter purchases under price support will just about drop out of the picture.

Reflecting the tighter supply-demand relationship, butter sold for a higher price in December. The price rose to the highest level since 1959 and cheese prices were the highest since November of 1952.

Seasonal declines in price are indicated as production rises in the forepart of 1966 but for the year as a whole supplies should be such as to result in a "demand market" and higher prices for dairy farmers than in 1965, says agricultural economists.

Enstrom To Be Hailed On First 'Copter Delivery

MENOMINEE — State and community leaders plan a luncheon at Riverside Country Club here Tuesday to celebrate the delivery of the first F-28 Enstrom helicopter—Michigan's product of the year in 1965. The event also marks the beginning of 1966 Michigan Week activities in Upper Michigan, scheduled for May 15-21.

The F-28 three-place craft, only new U.S. helicopter to be certified in the past decade, is being delivered to Barry Jones, president of Jomac Air Associates of Vancouver, British Columbia. Enstrom and Jones have made arrangements to fly the helicopter to Dallas, Tex., where it will be demonstrated at the American Helicopter Association's annual meeting Jan. 23-26.

Enstrom president, Jack Christensen, said the firm expects to be delivering helicopters at the rate of one per week by late summer.

Enstrom has orders for 25 additional helicopters from 10 firms in the U.S., New Zealand, Argentina, Sweden, Austria and the Union of South Africa. Most of the 'copters are to be used by commercial concerns for such things as agricultural jobs, power line inspections, ski rescues and forest and park surveys. Enstrom will soon start a tour of Army and Navy stations to demonstrate practical applications which the helicopter has for military jobs.

At Tuesday's luncheon, Michigan Week leaders will be given the latest chapter in a local self-help financing project which got Enstrom into the helicopter business. Three months ago, local citizens, mostly living within 50 miles of Menominee, raised another half million dollars in common

Commission Promises New Look At Deer Program

LANSING (UPI) — The State Conservation Commission, under heavy criticism because of a sluggish deer hunting season last year, has promised a sharp new look at the state's deer programs.

The commission met Friday and ordered the Conservation Department to begin several studies and to make recommendations to ease what commissioner Gus Scholle warned was the start of a decline in the deer herd.

The commission included a request that the Legislature consider returning to a statewide deer hunting season of Nov. 15-30. The commission said it believed "some of the disappointment over last year's deer season was caused by the new pattern of season dates."

Scholle warned, "Our deer herd is going to diminish each year from now on, unless we take some very, very drastic steps that may cost astronomical sums."

He said the deer were faced with increasing difficulty in finding enough food because of the continued growth of northern woods and forests.

The commission directed the Conservation Department "to develop immediately a proposal for a maximum deer habitat improvement program for both public and private lands."

The recommendation follows several weeks of criticism directed at the department's policy of permitting hunters to take does and fawns.

The commission directed the conservation department to review and audit its methods of obtaining deer population and

Juvenile Crime Bill Proposed

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney has announced he will seek new legislation to allow the state and circuit court judges to treat offenders between the ages of 17 and 21 as juveniles.

Romney, in a speech Friday to the mid-winter meeting of the Michigan Probate-Juvenile Judges Association, said he will seek an "alternative sentencing of minors law." Currently only those offenders under age 17 are treated as juveniles.

Romney proposed that judges have the option of committing the 17- to 21-year-olds to the Department of Corrections which would place them in specifically designated state "youthful offender" facilities.

He said the corrections department's "youthful offender" facilities would also be able to accept transfers of appropriate juvenile cases from the Department of Social Services.

There are now enough facilities to handle the new load and insure that adults and minors are not placed together, he said.

"These proposals mark a historic new departure in the state provision of effective, flexible and equitable programs for treating and rehabilitating youth," he said.

kill figures, including seeking advice from outside professional agencies and citizens groups.

Commissioner Harry Whiteley of Rogers City invited legislators to tour deer yard areas to get a true picture of the deer's habitat.

One legislator, Sen. Joseph S. Mack, D-Ironwood, already has introduced a bill in the Legislature calling for a one-year moratorium on shooting antlerless deer in the Upper Peninsula. He also welcomed amendments to the bill to include the Lower Peninsula.

The deer kill last year was estimated at 108,000 by conservation officials, down 32,000 from the 1964 harvest.

Auto Pioneer Goodman Dies

DETROIT (UPI) — Funeral services have been set for Wednesday for James E. Goodman, an executive vice president of General Motors who died Saturday night at Rochester, Minn.

Goodman, 61, was a pioneer automobile builder who rose from a job on the production line to vice president with jurisdiction over the Automotive and Defense Divisions.

A native of Union City, Ind., Goodman joined the Fisher Body Division of GM 41 years ago at its Norwood, Ohio plant as a production worker.

Eleven years later Goodman was named resident manager of the Norwood plant and from there began his climb into upper management.

In 1937 he participated in the Purdue University's famed "Old Masters" seminar, a student guidance project, and in 1961 received an honorary degree of Doctor of Industrial Administration from the institution.

Goodman was elected group vice president in charge of body and assembly divisions, a director of GM and a member of both the Executive and Administration Committees in 1958.

He was named executive vice president in 1961 and was appointed chairman of the Administration Committee in 1965.

A resident of Bloomfield Hills, Goodman is survived by his widow, Ruth, and a son, Jack, of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Federal expenditures for education in 1966 will total $2.7 billion, an increase of more than 75 per cent over this year.

State Of The State

Gov. George Romney's State of Michigan message to the Legislature previewing his budget requests shows the state in a healthy condition of government, reflecting the healthy condition of the economy.

The Governor said that from a deficit of $64 million in 1960 the state had moved to a surplus of $136 million in 1965. And this despite huge increases in state participation in government spending—including 67 per cent more to local schools and 70 per cent more to the colleges and universities, 31 per cent more for mental health, 50 per cent more for parks and recreation.

One of the most meaningful things in the message for the Upper Peninsula was the Governor's statement that today three-quarters of the people of Michigan live in 10 metropolitan areas downstate. This fact of life will necessarily and properly condition the Legislature's view of state needs and it will make even more necessary stress on the separate quality and uniqueness of the problems of the one-third of Michigan north of the Straits of Mackinac with only a little more than three per cent of the state's population.

It is declared that "no action would help (the eastern U.P.) more than removal of the tolls from the Mackinac Bridge." It would certainly help and there's so much hullabaloo about it now that it appears a likelihood when the interstate highway system bonds are repaid after 1970.

But the bridge tolls should not take attention from the more serious needs of the Upper Peninsula. Present state law actually impedes consolidation of school districts, which is a serious need of the Upper Peninsula if it is to provide its children with adequate schooling. Many U.P. districts have serious problems of resources for adequate schooling and the state is their chief hope of remedy.

The state and federal government are chief owners of the recreational resources in the U.P. and their development lags as the area aspires to growth of a recreational industry. Taking the tolls off the Mackinac Bridge won't perform any miracles if there's no reason for crossing the bridge.

As the state plans further expansion of its services for the benefit of its people, it should change its concept of the Upper Peninsula from that of a problem area to be benefitted by change in bridge tolls or the deer laws — as Alex Goldade says, "the bridge runs both ways"—and regard it as a huge opportunity for Michigan's growth based on immense natural resources.

It was the Lower Peninsula—not the Upper Peninsula—which decided that the U.P. couldn't be reached except by paying a fee. Such a public highway holdup wouldn't be tolerated in the Detroit area for one minute. But creating equality of opportunity for all Michigan's people is not such a simple thing as removing the toll plaza from the Mackinac Bridge.

Peninsula Trails

There are many thousands of miles of woods roads throughout the Upper Peninsula. For the most part, these are unimproved and abandoned logging roads but they are important as means for getting into areas that would otherwise be inaccessible to sportsmen. These roads which are not improved with culverts, small log bridges and gravel fill in mud holes, finally become impassable.

In the days when transportation was with horses, it didn't matter much whether a road was maintained; a stream could be forded and mudholes cause no great difficulty. But today, with most people traveling by car, passable roads are a prime need of recreational access to woodlands. The Michigan Department of Conservation reports that it now has 1,200 miles of woods roads that it maintains in the Upper Peninsula. This is a small part of all the woods roads but the Department is moving in the right direction by improving and maintaining these roads over state property.

Our U. P. loggers, who have made such a big contribution to wildlife plenty with their cutting programs, have also eased the access problem by creating and improving woods roads and then leaving the culverts and other structures used in their improvement.

The Doctor Says:

Knock-Knees Common

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Children under three years of age often have knock-knees, and is severe enough to be considered a handicap, he may have the muscles of the inner aspect have to wear braces for several of their knees. The Germans call it "X" legs. As a last resort the refer to these as "X" legs in legs may have to be straightened by "X" legs when the child is outward.

Knock-knees are especially common in infants who are overweight or flat-footed. They cause the child to walk awkwardly and to stumble a lot. Fortunately, unless the child has rickets, which may cause an inward bowing but more commonly causes outward bowing, his knees will become stronger with walking and the legs will straighten out.

The treatment is directed at the cause: rickets, overweight or flat feet. Exercises for flat feet, such as picking up marbles with the toes and teaching the child to walk on his heels and to walk heel to toe, are recommended. If the condition

Merchant Reserve Fleet Checked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A study of the American Merchant Marine fleet, particularly its adequacy for use in Viet Nam, will be high on the agenda of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee.

Committee Chairman Rep. Edward Garmatz, D-Md., said Sunday the committee will make a general study of the adequacy and condition of the merchant reserve fleet.

Advancing cities are using up the nation's farmlands at a rate of a million acres a year, says National Geographic.

Brer Bunny Is Rated

No. 1 Michigan Game Animal

BY LEE SMITS

If you were called upon to name Michigan's No. 1 game animal, would it be the lordly elk, wily turkey, black bear, ruffed grouse, white-tailed deer?

Rated according to the hours and days of recreation she provides, the honor belongs to Molly Cottontail.

The longest hunting season in Michigan are allotted to the cottontail and to the snowshoe hare of the northern swamps; 151 days, October 1 to March 1, with the exception of Zone 3, the southern third of the lower Peninsula, where the rabbit season opens Oct. 20, with the pheasant and grouse seasons. Year after year the harvest of Michigan cottontails run close to a million, with the snowshoe kill close to a third of a million. The average of hunter-success doesn't vary a great deal, although populations of cottontail and snowshoe are subject to local ups and downs.

Some years ago Gosse Ile in the Detroit River on the outskirts of Detroit was overrun by cottontails that were rapidly destroying shrubbery and other vegetation within reach. Residents appealed to the conservation Department. A platoon of gunners, with dogs and ferrets, spent a day killing rabbits, which were turned over to charitable organizations. It was an uncanny experience, to stand on the porch of an expensive home, kill half a dozen rabbits as they popped out ahead of ferrets while a line of waiting housewives rejoiced in the slaughter, imploring the gunner: "Please come to our house next!" — offering hot coffee as a bonus.

MICHIGAN cottontail have three litters annually, with an average of five infant bunnies, born naked and helpless in a grassy nest lined with the mother's fur. Snowshoe hare are even less careful of their litters, but the young hares are born with a covering of fur, capable of fending for themselves at a very early age. Three litters of three or four each is the Michigan average for the snowshoe.

Spectacular fluctuations of varying hare populations in Canada have been recorded and discussed for two hundred years. Hudson Bay Company books show a heavy drop in the number of lynx trapped at intervals of about eight years, caused by a shortage of hares on which the lynx largely depend.

Travellers on the Alcan Highway have sighted hundreds of dead and dying hares at times, and have seen hares

BARBS

By WALTER C. PARKES

Don't remove your shoes during the movie—you may find them full of popcorn when you're ready to leave.

Some people have no license to hunt even though they have one.

First sign of spring: The blooming idiots who go about in their shirt sleeves.

Get plenty of sleep, girls, and the face that is your fortune won't be overdrawn.

From Romney's viewpoint, possibly the best thing that engage in cannibalism. Michigan trappers tell me that on occasion a snowshoe hare will chew on the carcass of one of its own kind.

THE SNOWSHOE was a ready source of protein for early settlers. A century ago the snowshoe ranged as far south as Lansing. Snares of twine or wire saved ammunition.

Indians learned that a steady winter diet of hare brought on a serious dietary deficiency called "rabbit sickness," perhaps because the hares carry little fat.

Long before insulated fabrics reached the market, Indians made cold-proof blankets out of hare skin. The skin was cut into narrow strips, the strips were twisted and then woven tightly to form a light, fluffy blanket, about two inches thick.

THE COTTONTAIL requires snug shelter to get through Michigan winters. Woodchuck dens enable rabbits to get away from extreme cold. If woodchucks were eliminated the cottontail and the skunk, would be in a bad way. Rabbits, like quail, follow agriculture. There are a few cottontails in some parts of the Upper Peninsula where conditions in general are unfavorable to the species.

The cottontail's best contribution to sport is providing the merry beagle with a serious purpose in life. Cottontails were made for beagles. A dog with longer legs pushes a rabbit too hard and the rabbit holes up. A well-tuned beagle sings just the right song when stimulated by cottontail scent.

If ever a prohibitive law was justified, it is the law barring the use of ferrets. Hound plus ferret — or even ferret plus tracking snow — or a detailed knowledge of rabbit holes — diminished the chances of cottontail survival to zero.

Face High Hurdles

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Only Michigan's Gov. George Romney and Richard M. Nixon are being taken seriously by Republican leaders today as 1968 GOP presidential prospects. And only they are likely to be.

If Charles Percy should win Sen. Paul Douglas' seat in Illinois and Ronald Reagan captures the California governorship from Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, their names almost certainly would then be thrown into the 1968 lists. But discussions with GOP professionals do not suggest they would have a real chance.

As for the rest, Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York is consigned to 1972 presidential speculation; Oregon's Gov. Mark Hatfield, due to run for the Senate this year, still is shrugged off in important party quarters, and other young, attractive Republican figures are not even mentioned.

Publicly, the professionals will keep on saying that it is too early to talk presidency, that the party must focus on 1966 races. In fact, they know the 1968 race is already narrowed to Romney and Nixon, with almost no likelihood that 1966 will raise up a bright new figure.

In 1965 Romney roamed the nation and the world, trying to enlarge his image as both a good party man and a knowledgeable man of world affairs. In 1966 he will have to stick to his Michigan knitting, since his first priority task is to run up a big re-election vote in November.

Even though Romney often says things which have a very strong conservative ring, it is widely assumed he will have to go the 1968 presidential primary route—and win—to gain the allegiance of the many conservative convention delegates he would need for nomination.

This poses another problem for him. Romney will need a fairly formidable primary opponent. Victories by default will do him little good, as the late Sen. Estes Kefauver learned in 1952. By providing opposition in 1968 primaries, Vice President Hubert Humphrey was, unwittingly, one of the late John F. Kennedy's most vital allies.

From Romney's viewpoint, possibly the best thing that could happen would be a Reagan victory in California and a militant conservative campaign that would thrust Romney into several primaries against him.

Without that, it is difficult to see where real primary opposition could come from. Few party leaders believe that Nixon wants to take that path.

Nixon's problems, indeed, are perhaps even more taxing than Romney's.

Again, a broad presumption among top party men is that Nixon probably can count upon heavy delegate support in many nonprimary states where delegates are picked in state convention.

It is expected that such support will be particularly strong in the 11 Old South states, giving Nixon the same kind of traditional conservative base which the late Robert A. Taft and Barry Goldwater relied upon in earlier years.

Nixon has eagerly cultivated conservative backing from the moment Goldwater was nominated in 1964. There is no question he is presently the overwhelming choice of Goldwaterites and some other conservatives.

But Nixon, in his carefully calculated doing of "party good works," also has tried to woo the moderates who were inevitably in his pocket in 1960. His 1966-68 dilemma is how to get them while becoming the conservatives' darling.

Professionals consider the primary route dangerous for him. To oppose Romney would be to polarize him more sharply as the conservatives' man. Such a direct Romney-Nixon confrontation might produce the bloodiest party battles since the Eisenhower-Taft warfare of 1952. And there is no assurance that Nixon, a familiar face with a loser's tag, would come out well.

His best hope would seem to be to depend on the delegates chosen in convention and pray that Romney will stumble badly somewhere along the primary route.

Yet that course, too, involves great risk for Nixon. In 1960, Lyndon B. Johnson, rich in southern and western delegates, and Stuart Symington, loaded with "second choice" promises, watched John Kennedy for the stumble that never came.

Soil District

Meets Jan. 19

The Menominee County Soil Conservation District will hold its 21st annual meeting in the VFW clubrooms in Daggett at noon Wednesday, Jan. 19.

One director will be elected to succeed Mark Mulzer of Daggett. Directors whose terms continue are Gerald Theuerkauf, Menominee; Gerald Benson and Harry Hanchek, Carney, and Orin Berto, Daggett. Any Menominee County landowner may attend and vote.

The program will feature short talks on farm financing by Herbert Corey, president of the Bank of Stephenson, and on roads in the land use program by Edmund Sager, member of the Menominee County Road Commission. Free lunch, awards, and movies are planned.

The district's annual report reflects the progress Menominee County landowners have made in soil and water conservation, with 52 soil and water conservation plans completed in 1965 and 17 plans revised. Seventy-two new cooperators applied for complete plans. Construction of field ditches totaled 32,450 feet and a total of 6,250 feet of drain tile was installed. There were 668 acres of strip cropping, 438 acres of contour farming and 187 acres of tree planting accomplished in 1965.

District activities included sponsorship of a soil conservation contest to select three families who had done an outstanding job in soil conservation and land use, and a tour and luncheon for clergymen on Soil Stewardship Sunday. The Ray Machalk, Ralph Paulson, and Robert Smith families received awards in the soil conservation contest.

The Menominee Soil Conservation District is assisted by the USDA Soil Conservation Service. Personnel includes Allen Weber and John Brosilavick of Stephenson and Roland Peterson of Escanaba.

Shutdown Ends For AMC Plants

KENOSHA, Wis. (UPI)—American Motors Corp. was scheduled to resume production at its plants here and Milwaukee Monday, ending a shutdown which began Dec. 23.

The plants employ 17,000. The employment is about 2,400 less than when production workers were laid off at the start of the shutdown. Some 2,200 Kenosha workers were called back for a one-week period during the closing to work on engine production lines.

William V. Lundberg, vice president of automotive manufacturing, said last week the new production schedule would reflect higher demand for such top-line models as Ambassador DPL's and Rambler Rogues and Rebels.

Without that, it is difficult to see where real primary opposition could come from. Few party leaders believe that Nixon wants to take that path.

Nixon's problems, indeed, are perhaps even more taxing than Romney's.

Ann Landers

Brilliant Man Is Stupid Too

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a brilliant student at the state university. Two weeks before we were married Tim's friends gave him a stag party at which he got very drunk. The boys decided to drive him to a strange part of town, take off his trousers and leave him stranded.

Tim doesn't recall what happened, but he knows he wandered into a back yard. About 2:30 a.m. some people called the police and had him arrested. Tim spent the night in jail. Thank heavens the police understood it was a prank. They released him the next morning and the trespassing charges were dropped.

What happened to Tim proves that one evening of foolishness can cause months of heartache. My husband has been a nervous wreck ever since. He is afraid the incident will ruin his career. I've talked until I'm blue in the face but he still worries. Can you say something to put his mind at ease? — MRS. R. C.

Dear Mrs. R.: If the charges were dropped there is no record.

If Tim wants to drain his energies worrying about something that doesn't exist, he's not brilliant. He's stupid.

Dear Ann Landers: I am the mother of four children — two girls and two boys. They range from 6 to 12 years of age. All winter long, one or two of my four children are out of school with a bad cold or worse.

I went to school yesterday to see the oldest boy in a play. Now I know why my kids are always sick. Five kids in that room should have been at home. I was shocked to see so many red noses, so much coughing, wheezing, sneezing and blowing. One boy looked like he had pink eye.

Some mothers push their half-sick children out the door because they don't want to bother with them. I feel this is unfair to the other youngsters and I want to know what can be done about it. — FURIOUS

Dear Furious: You are right. Too many irresponsible mothers shove their sick kids out of the house when they should be kept at home.

It's up to the teacher to spot these youngsters and send them to the school nurse. The nurse should then decide whether the child should stay in school or be shipped home.

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of mine gave her boss four weeks' notice. There was no trouble. Suzy just got tired of the job and decided to do something more interesting. Her boss offered her a sizeable salary increase and tried hard to get her to stay but she told him her mind was made up.

Suzy has one more week to go and is eager to get out. Yesterday her boss asked her to please stay on an additional two weeks. Do you think this is fair? Suzy is afraid that if she refuses the boss will not give her a good recommendation. We would like your opinion. — WINNIEPEG

Dear Winnie: Although you don't say so, your letter makes it clear that Suzy does not yet have another job. If it is indeed the case I feel it would be extremely generous of her to work the additional two weeks and help the boss out.

She should make it clear, however, that she cannot stay beyond that time under any circumstances. There is much to be said for terminating a working relationship on a friendly note. Suzy will never regret it.

Prince Ready For U.S. Tour

LONDON (UPI)—The Daily Express called for "three great rousing royal cheers" for Prince Philip's decision to let an American public relations firm handle publicity for his forthcoming tour of the United States.

"This is the best thing that has happened to royalty since the invention of the camera," wrote Robin Douglas-Horne, a relative of former Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home.

"It is something for which modern-minded monarchists, in this age of mass-communication techniques, had been pleading for years."

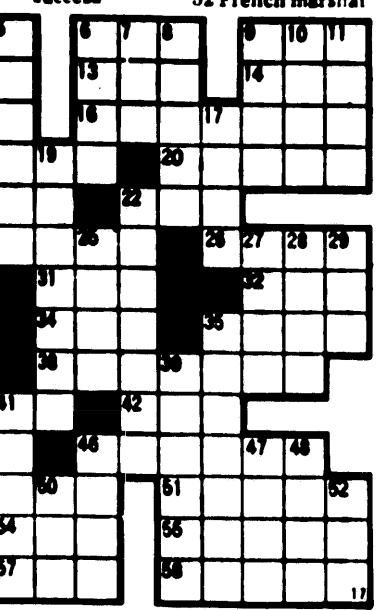

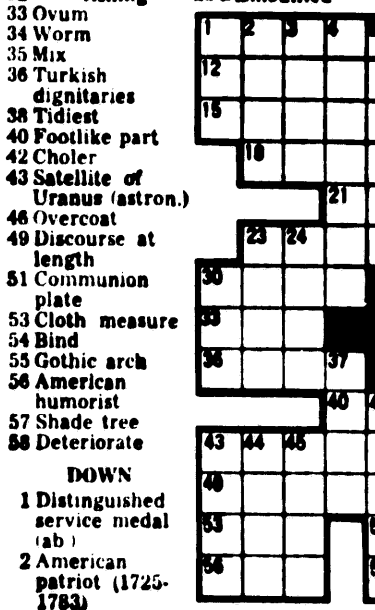

Douglas-Horne rejected the idea that the firm of Rogers and Cowan would project the prince as "a sort of gaudy show-biz star or a whiter than white soap powder."

"They will be of inestimable value to Prince Philip in his task of keeping the American press happy," he wrote.

Scouts To Mark Week Feb. 7-13

Boy Scout Week—Feb. 7 to 13—will be celebrated with the theme "Breakthrough For Youth" by 176 Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout troops, and Explorer posts in the Hiawathaland Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Plans for the 56th anniversary observance were announced by Clifton Rogers, president of the Hiawathaland Council, which serves Michigan's Upper Peninsula and Niagara and Florence, Wis.

"The breakthrough for youth theme for the 1966 Boy Scout Week will give every Scout unit an opportunity to dramatize its own goals to provide a quality Scout program for more boys in its neighborhood," Rogers said. "The Hiawathaland Council and its six districts will also use Boy Scout Week as a time to report to the general public on its determination to expand the Scout program through local organizations."

The Scout units in the Hiawathaland Council will join in a program to honor former Scouts and Scout leaders with the slogan "Once a Scout Always a Scout." These alumni will be invited to the traditional open-house meetings that each pack, troop, and post will hold in February.

Other features of Boy Scout Week will include window displays and live demonstrations; observance of Scout Sabbath, Feb. 11 and 12, and Scout Sunday, Feb. 13; and a good turn for chartered institution day when each Scout unit will participate in a service project for the organization that holds its charter for the use of the scout program, Rogers said.

Uniform Day is scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 8, when Scouts will attend school in uniforms and be prepared to tell about their participation in the Scout program. Most Scout units will also take part in the traditional rededication to the Cub Scout promise, Boy Scout oath, or Explorer code at 8:15 p.m., on Feb. 8.

The spotlight is on the activities of the Boy Scouts of America from Feb. 7 to 13 when the National Youth Movement celebrates its 56th anniversary during Boy Scout Week.

For this long period of time, the scout movement has helped to train boys from 8 years of age to manhood in the skills of

Rapid River Will Initiate Topical Fluoride Program

Rapid River's PTA committee on topical fluoride met Wednesday evening in the multipurpose room of the Bay de Noc Elementary School. Letters mimeographed by the school's secretary, Mrs. Edith Johnston, are ready to be sent to parents of children who qualify for the topical fluoride treatments.

Treatments will be initiated this year at the Rapid River Schools and will include children between 3-4 years of age, kindergarten, second, third, fifth, sixth, eighth, and ninth graders.

Special permission from the Michigan State Health Department, has been granted the Rapid River Program to include the kindergarten, third, sixth and ninth graders in this first year of treatment. These groups would otherwise be missed because topical fluoride applications made at ages 3-4 years old, 2nd, 5th and 8th grades prove most effective.

The cost per child is $3.00 and includes cleaning of teeth and four treatments of sodium fluoride. The program is self supporting with the Michigan Health Department providing the necessary dental equipment and a qualified dental hygienist for the treatments. All treatments will be made at Rapid River's Bay de Noc Elementary School.

Rapid River's working members of the fluoride committee are: Mrs. Charles Doonan, Mrs. Waldon Johnson, Jr., Mrs. Jack Miller, Jr., Mrs. Norman Slough, Mrs. Frank J. Lundberg, Mrs. Herbert Lundin, Mrs. Henry Vitzke, Mrs. William Larsen, Mrs. Charles Larsen, Mrs. Lawrence Sauve, Mrs. Wallace McCollough and Mrs. Thomas Safford. Mrs. William Larsen is committee treasurer.

Representatives from Rock, Perkins and Nahma School districts have shown an interest in this program and will be invited to attend the Rapid River committee meeting Wednesday, Feb. 2, 8 p.m. in the multipurpose room of the Bay de Noc Elementary School.

ANNOUNCEMENT is made today by Mr. and Mrs. William Russell of Rapid River of the engagement of their daughter, Linda, to Larry Deiter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Deiter of Soo Hill. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Women's Club To View Travelogue By Lincoln Temby

A travelogue entitled, "Traveling to the Tetons," will be presented to the Escanaba Women's Club on Jan. 19, by Lincoln Temby. It will cover the eleven week, 5,622 mile trip to the West by Mr. and Mrs. Temby, between June 11 and August 26 of last year.

Mr. Temby has been a resident of Escanaba since 1926 and Mrs. Temby was born and raised here.

Mr. Temby has been a member of the Kiwanis Club for 12 years; the Delta County Camera Club for 14 years; a member of the Board of Trustees, Carnegie Public Library for 6 years.

Travel, photography, bridge and fishing are among his hobbies. He taught bridge and photography in the Escanaba Adult Education Classes.

In June the Tembys will return to an active life of travel. They will go out West again, to the Pacific Coast of Oregon. ## PTA Units Asked To Send Delegates To State Meet

Mrs. Leo Niquette, president of the Escanaba Area PTA Council asks local PTA leaders for resolutions they feel should be presented at the State PTA Convention in Detroit April 25-27.

The Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers Resolution Committee will present to convention delegates only those resolutions receiving the most emphasis on concerns that are statewide. "For this reason," says Mrs. Niquette, "it is critical that the committee put suggested resolutions from a large cross-section of local units and councils before the convention delegates for adoption."

Resolutions are to be submitted in typed triplicate, signed by the president and secretary of the local unit and mailed to the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers headquarters office in Lansing.

Mrs. Niquette urges all area PTA units to decide early to send a representative to the State Convention.

"I know of no better way for a Parent-Teacher Association to invest funds than to participate in the state convention," Mrs. Niquette said. "This is where every member has a real share in establishing policies and guidelines that can greatly strengthen every local PTA in the state." The basic aim of the PTA Congress is to help parents, teachers and other interested persons to gain a better understanding of the child—his growth—his development and his needs.

Members of the Escanaba Area PTA Council are asked to meet at the home of Mrs. Niquette, 220 N. 21st St. to vote on an important issue, Tuesday from 7 to 8 p.m. There will also be the regular PTA Council meeting Jan. 24 at 8 p.m. at the Webster School.

Surplus Timber Report Shaping

BY ROBERT L. BIOLO
Of The Russell Newspapers

Officials of Operation Action-U. P. anticipate receiving the final report on the surplus timber inventory by late February.

Operation Action, co-chaired by Dr. Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan University, and Walker L. Cisler, president, the Detroit Edison Co., is the non-governmental, non-profit agency organized to aid the Upper Peninsula's economy.

The timber inventory is one of the principal studies programmed by the agency's industry task force in cooperation with Michigan Tech. The others are a market study of surplus resources and research on economic utilization processes.

Work is being done through an Operation Action committee headed by Dr. James Boyd, New York, president of the Copper Range Co.

Through arrangements made by Boyd with Dr. Raymond L. Smith, president of Tech, the university released Prof. W. Hooker, forester on the staff of Tech's Institute of Wood Research, for the inventory phase of the program, which is the initial step.

Hooker is assigned directly to the task force chairman, Cisler, and his salary is being contributed by Tech.

The survey is an effort to determine the amount of surplus timber available annually in the Peninsula. If a significant amount appears to be available (about 325,000 cords is indicated) Operation Action will investigate ways of utilizing this resource to the economic advantage of the region.

Surplus timber is defined as timber which should be cut, but is not being cut because no market for it exists. Lack of markets may be due to species, size, quality, location or economic conditions. Hooker noted in his progress report.

"In addition," Hooker said, "we are attempting to find out how much timber owned by Michigan residents is being shipped out of the state for processing. This material would be 'fair game' for any industry which became established in Michigan and could successfully compete for it."

Spartans Surprise In Big Ten Action

By United Press International
The strong Michigan accent on the Big 10 Basketball race grew to new and larger proportions over the weekend as Michigan and Michigan State jumped to the top of the conference by maintaining unblemished records.

The surprising Spartans of Michigan State won their third straight Big 10 game for Coach John Bennington by trouncing Ohio State, 80-64, at East Lansing while Dave Strack's Michigan Wolverines put on another second half comeback and sank Northwestern, 93-86, at Evanston, Ill., for their third win. John Bailey, a sophomore who had scored only two baskets in Michigan State's first two games, was the Spartans' surprise weapon against Ohio State. Bailey provided a pair of crucial buckets just before the end of the first half and finished the game with 24 points to take scoring honors.

The victory marked the first time in the history of Michigan State that a basketball team has won its first three games.

Northwestern threw a scare at Michigan before faltering before the blistering shooting of Cazzie Russell during the second half of Saturday night's game.

The Wildcats built up a 52-41 halftime lead but the Wolverines came out strong in the last half and with just over 11 minutes remaining took the lead, 66-65.

Michigan finally took a dominant lead at 75-66 when Russell banged home seven straight points. He finished the game with a 39-point total.

Both Michigan and Michigan State will be idle until Saturday. Then the Wolverines will battle Minnesota at Ann Arbor and the Spartans will meet the Hawkeyes of Iowa at Iowa City.

Trainer Arrives

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — John Pomponio, a New York trainer, arrived Sunday to help prepare European heavyweight champion Karl Mildenberger for his fight against Eddie Machen of Redding, Calif., scheduled for Feb. 3.

Pomponio, who formerly handled Floyd Patterson, said he would have Mildenberger study a film of Patterson's fight with Machen two years ago.

Royals Halt Piston String

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The two game winning streak of the Detroit Pistons fell Sunday night to the Cincinnati Royals, who were winning their seventh straight, 108-106.

The Royals battled back from first quarter and halftime deficits to knot the score 82-82 and then burst to as much as a 10-point lead during the final period.

Joe Strawder tossed in a pair of free throws and Ron Reed and Eddie Miles added field goals to cut the Cincinnati lead to two points with just 33 seconds left.

Dave DeBusschere missed a field goal attempt and Jerry Lucas picked off the rebound with two seconds left to wrap up the Royals win and move them to within a half-game of the Eastern Division leaders of the National Basketball Association, the Boston Celtics.

Hershey Bows In Puck Clash

By United Press International
Two goalies aren't always better than one.

Springfield riddled the nets against Hershey goalies Claude DuFour and Andre Gill to defeat the Bears 7-1 Sunday night. Jacques Caron mugged the nets throughout the game for Springfield and didn't give up a goal until Bruce Draper flicked the puck in midway through the final period.

Seven different players scored for Springfield as Bill Sweeney led the team with one goal and two assists. The Indians took 38 shots at the Hershey goal, and the Bears managed only 15.

In other games, Cleveland defeated Baltimore 3-2, Pittsburgh beat Buffalo 3-1 and Rochester overwhelmed Quebec 6-1.

Barnum Second At Palm Beach

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI) — John Barnum, Belmont, Mich., scored to a third round 78 Sunday and finished one stroke behind Walker Inman, Columbus, Ohio, in the PGA National Golf Championship.

Barnum lost his chance to send the match into a sudden-death playoff when he three-putted the 18th hole of the final round and settled for second place in the tournament.

Inman was the only player to break par on the cold and windy day, firing a 71 for a 54-hole score of 214.

Julius Boros, Dow Finsterwald and Sam Snead finished in a three-way tie for third place with a 216 total.

Bob Gadja, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., finished in a two-way tie for sixth place with a 217 score.

Skate Champion

DRAMMEN, Norway (UPI) — Svein Erik Stiansen of Oslo finished first in the 1,500 meter race and third in the 10,000 meters Sunday to win the Norwegian speed skating championship. Defending champion Fred Anton Maier was second and reigning world champion Per Ivar Moe was third.

Namath Sparks AFL All-Stars

HOUSTON (UPI) — Joe Namath, the American Football League's Rookie of the Year, had still another tribute today on the basis of his sparkling performance in the AFL All-Star game Saturday. And he came off the bench to earn it.

Namath was named outstanding offensive player of the game, in which his two touchdown passes to Lance Alworth gave the All-Stars a 30-19 victory over the league champion Buffalo Bills.

In an announcement shortly after the game started, the Houston Oilers disclosed they had traded three players to San Diego for Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison, half the All-Star starting defensive line.

Namath's performance lifted the All-Stars from what had been a rather drab first half. The Bills had dominated but Namath's second half passing drove the Bills' defense crazy.

The toe of AFL's top scorer, Gino Cappelletti added 12 points to the All-Star total with three points after touchdown and three field goals.

Namath first connected with Alworth over 43 yards late in the third quarter. Alworth snared Namath's scoring aerial on the goal line in the fourth quarter for a 10-yard touchdown. Then he was carried off the field unconscious, to a standing ovation.

Namath connected on six of 10 passes worth 89 yards and two touchdowns.

Willy Erickson Finishes Third

CHICAGO (UPI) — Willy Erickson, Iron Mountain, Mich., finished third in the Class A competition of the United States Ski Association's central division junior class meet held here Sunday.

Erickson finished with 199 points on jumps of 178 and 180 feet.

John Balfanz, Minneapolis, won the Class A event with jumps of 191 and 192 feet.

Robert Wedin, also of Iron Mountain, finished fourth with jumps of 167 and 188 feet, and Jerry Goyen, Ishpeming, was fifth with 177 and 176-foot jumps.

Gary Sparma, Iron Mountain, finished third in the Class B, junior division competition with jumps of 177 and 176 feet, also.

Hull Explodes For Four Goals But Hawks Bow

By United Press International
Bobby Hull, nearing a goal-a-game pace, is moving closer to the National Hockey League scoring record, but the Chicago Black Hawks aren't moving any closer to an NHL title.

Hull scored his 36th goal of the campaign and 300th of his career Sunday night by registering a four-goal hat trick against the New York Rangers. But the Rangers won 6-5 to drop the Hawks in a first place tie with the Montreal Canadiens.

"I never knew it was No. 300 until Glenn Hall told me in the shower room," Hull said. "I never keep track of that sort of thing."

Hull, who at 27 is the youngest NHL player to hit the 300 mark, needs only 15 goals to set a league record of 51 in one season.

Reg Fleming and Jean Ratelle gave New York a 2-1 first period lead. After the Hawks tied the game at 2-2 early in the middle session, the Rangers bombarded Chicago nets with three consecutive goals. Donnie Marshall, Vic Hadfield and Ratelle scored for New York.

Hull made the score 5-3 at 1:57 of the final period but Doug Robinson scored New York's winning goal at 2:05. Hull scored his 300th at 8:53 but Chicago couldn't find the range after that.

Henri Richard, Jean Beliveau and Ralph Backstrom each tallied his 13th goal of the campaign to give the Canadiens a share of first place with a 3-1 victory over Boston. Charlie Hodge held the Bruins scoreless in the last stanza.

Roger Crozier recorded his sixth shutout of the season and Norm Ullman scored a three-goal hat trick to power the Detroit Red Wings to a 4-0 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Yankee Joe Pepitone Pulls Switch With Plans To Marry, Settle Down

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (UPI) — Tell the boys down at Cape Kennedy all conditions are go.

Joe Pepitone not only is getting married, but also getting serious and trying to get rid of his reputation for being a "hot dog" at the same time.

This the Yankees want to see. Never mind them. This every-one wants to see because it could turn out to be the most startling switch since Christine Jorgensen.

Ever since he began playing ball, Pepitone has been, well, to put it mildly, a high flier. The kind of guy who liked to live it up, make every night New Year's Eve and not worry too much about tomorrow.

Reputation Stick
"My first manager, Steve Souchock, tried to warn me," recalled the 25-year-old Yankee first baseman. "He told me I had a reputation even then and I was only 17. He said I'd better try to straighten out or that reputation would stick with me forever."

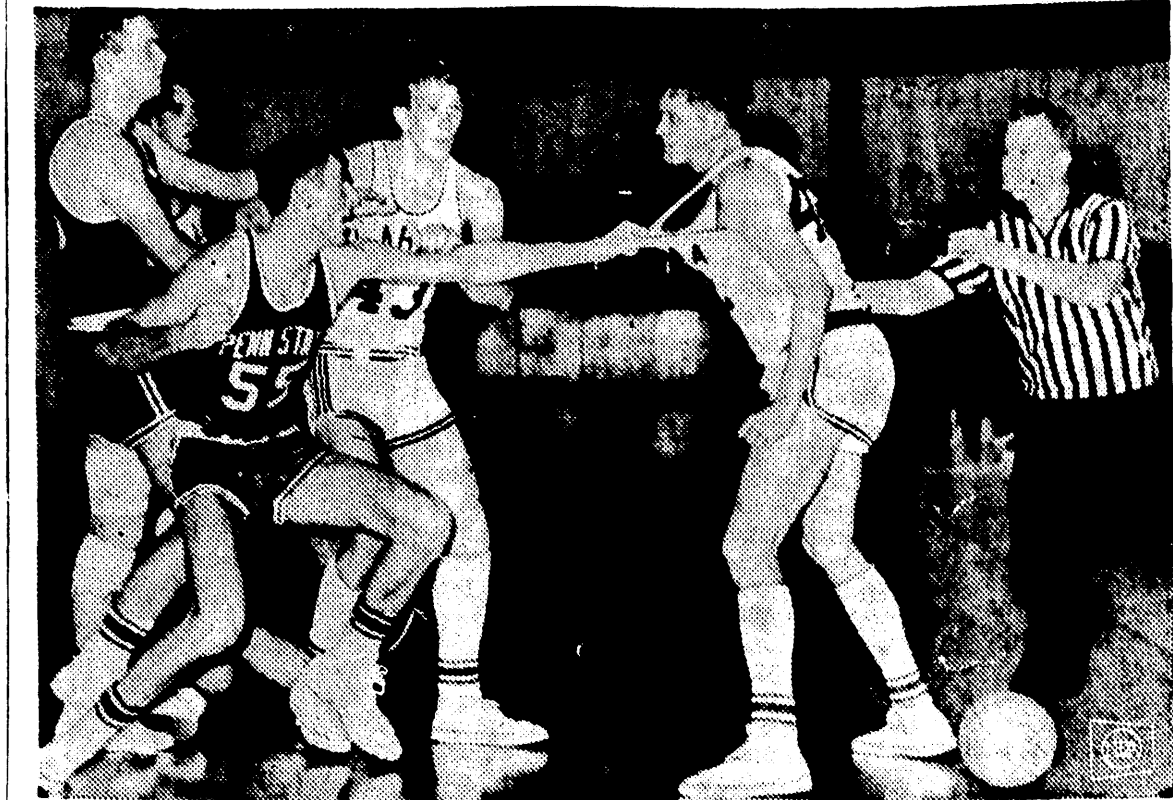

"I guess it did," Pepitone reflected ruefully. "I know I have a reputation. I broke a lot of rules and now I'm fingered. If I don't hustle maybe once or twice everyone notices. They look for me not to hustle."

Whatever the reason for it, the roof caved in on poor Joe last year. First there were domestic troubles and a subsequent divorce. Then financial problems started to pyramid.

And finally he had his worst year with the Yankees, trailing off sharply from the season before with a .247 batting average, only 68 RBIs and 19 home runs.

"That's all over with now," he declared. "They've been telling me to get serious for more than eight years. Well, now I am, and I'm all through with the playboy stuff, too. Wann know the reason? Here's my reason."

Behind Every Man
With that, Pepitone turned toward his fiancée, Diane Sandre, a striking dark-eyed beauty whom he already has

MAIN EVENT — Penn State's Paul Mickey (55) and Alabama's Harry Hammonds (42) appear ready for a 10-rounder, but teammates and the referee pulled them apart before any punches landed.

Eastern, Central Quints Get Easy Cage Victories

By United Press International
Two of the state's top winning teams, Eastern Michigan and Central Michigan, added lustre to their records with easy weekend victories in Michigan small college basketball.

But another of the big winners, University of Detroit, was given a 97-91 shocking by Canisius College and had to settle for its third loss of the season, compared to ten wins.

Eastern Michigan, paced by Rod Marlatt's 22 points, ran its record to 5-0 in the President's Athletic Conference with an 87-64 trimming of Thiel College. The Hurons boast a 9-1 overall record for the season.

Central Michigan picked up its 14th win in 16 contests by dropping Hillsdale College, 90-73 with the help of 37 fouls called against the Dales. Don Edwards topped the scoring for Central with 33 points. The loss was the fifth in 15 games of Hillsdale.

The Titans of the University of Detroit were also plagued by fouls, committing 29 and losing three starting players with five apiece in bowing to Canisius, which was winning only its fifth game in 12 contests.

Western Michigan chalked up win No. 2 in the Mid-American Conference by pinning a 92-82 setback on Kent State behind the 32-point performance of John Scholtens. The Broncos have lost one MAC game.

Wayne State University picked up its first win of the season, 78-72, by Illinois State, Mankato State whipped Michigan Tech, 66-51, in a Northern Intercollegiate Conference game, and Rio Grande College, of Ohio, trampled Northwood, 126-97.

Detroit Plans Eighth Try At Olympic Games

DETROIT (UPI) — The City of Detroit will begin preparations this week for an eighth, and hopefully more successful, attempt to bring the Olympic games to the United States.

The United States Olympic Committee Saturday named the Motor City as the official U.S. bidder for the 1972 summer Olympics.

The committee's 42-man board of directors bypassed the offers presented by Los Angeles, St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia in giving Detroit its endorsement on the third ballot at the meeting held in Chicago.

The Detroit Olympic Committee, headed by chairman Fred Matthaei, Jr., and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, will begin meeting this week to prepare the presentation which will be offered to the International Olympic Committee April 25-27 in Rome.

Detroit has seven times been named as the official U.S. representative to seek the summer games but has, as yet, been unsuccessful before the international body.

But Detroit committee members, even before the Chicago meeting Saturday, were hopeful that this could be the year of success, pointing to the many friends the city has made in its presentations and pointing out the 1963 bidding when Detroit barely lost the 1968 games to Mexico City.

The Olympic tradition, however, has been the "moving of the flags" among the continents. This has led some observers to feel that the 1972 games will be headed back to Europe since the 1968 contests are scheduled for North America.

Only two other cities are known to be actively seeking the 1972 games. They are Montreal and Munich. But several others—including Vienna, Madrid, a Belgium city, perhaps Brussels, and possibly Moscow—have been considered possibilities.

Mustangs Hits 23 Of 29

Free Throw Parade Defeats Gladstone

MUNISING — Everybody likes a parade, they say, and the Munising Mustangs enjoyed one immensely here Saturday night enroute to a 73-59 Great Lakes Conference victory over the Gladstone Braves.

Coach Dave Ghiardi's Mustangs marched to the free throw line at a steady pace through the contest, and it paid off in their fifth GLC triumph in seven starts, good for second place in the standings.

The Mustangs took advantage of 20 Gladstone personals to step to the line 29 times. They came away with 23 points to account for their margin of victory.

The Mustang shooters were so deadly from the line that they scored 15 straight gift shots before missing their first try in the fourth quarter.

While Munising was canning charity shots in wholesale lots, the Braves were limited to 14 attempts and made seven of them. Munising was called for only nine personals in the contest.

Coach Bill Wood's Braves battled back from an early 14-6 deficit to knot the score at 31-31 late in the second quarter. Munising added three points to take the halftime rest with a 34-31 advantage.

Gladstone's hopes were shattered in the third quarter in which the Mustangs registered a whopping 23-4 margin on the scoreboard. The Braves were able to tally only two field goals by Dick Anderson and Russ Sargent.

Gladstone came out of the slump to toss in 24 points in the final frame, but couldn't overcome the big 57-35 deficit.

Paul Seglund of Munising took scoring honors for the night with 22 points while Sargent paced Gladstone with 14.

The setback was Gladstone's seventh against two victories this season and the Braves return to action in a home stand against Ishpeming Friday night.

Munising won the jayvee game, 75-54.

Meanwhile, Peninsula fans are keeping their eyes on a couple of prep outfits which have shown considerable improvement in the first half of January. Escanaba, looming as the No. 1 pick in Class A after four straight victories in two weeks, goes to Marquette, while Crystal Falls, beginning to show the form predicted for it in pre-season analysis, takes on Norway and Houghton on successive nights.

Marquette Baraga, enjoying its most successful season in 25 years, went over the century mark for the third time this winter in defeating Painesdale, 112-37, but will have a tougher test at Gwin Friday night. Coach Fred Boddy's Royals have lost only to Crystal Falls in 11 games and are just under Trout Creek's 88.1 average in team scoring.

Wakefield, two-time defending Class C king, has reached the regional round of post-season play five times in the last nine years. Besides the two crowns they gained in 1964 and 1965, the Cardinals were defeated in U.P. finals by Crystal Falls in 1958 and by Houghton in 1962. In their other regional appearance under Coach Jim Daniels, they lost an overtime semi-final game to Sault Loreto.

Trout Creek hasn't gained a championship since it took a Class E crown in 1958. Since elimination of the separate "E" division after the 1960 season, the Anglers of Coach Bruce Warren have been in the title finals against Marquette Pierce in 1961 and Negaunee St. Paul in 1965.

But with post-season tournament play still seven weeks away, coaches of all three schools are more immediately concerned about league activities. Ironwood opens the second round of Michigan-Wisconsin action by hosting Ashland this week, while Wakefield is at home in a non-conference match with Ontonagon and then goes to Maple for a M-W test.

Trout Creek, once again the Peninsula's top scoring outfit, also plays two games — at Marquette and at home against Mercer, Wis.

College Cagers Will Hit Books

By United Press International

School books take precedent over play books this week as most of the top 10 college basketball teams take time off for semester final exams.

After rugged tests on the court last week, top-ranked Duke, second-ranked Kentucky and third-ranked Vanderbilt face stiffer testing in the classroom and won't be back in action until next week.

Also idle this week are Providence (No. 7), UCLA (No. 8) and Texas Western (No. 9).

Jack Marin netted a career-high 36 points Saturday night to power the Blue Devils to a 101-81 victory over Wake Forest.

Duke, idle until Jan. 29, has won 14 of 15 starts and boast 12 consecutive victories.

The Kentucky Wildcats raised their slate to 12-0 by whipping Vanderbilt (14-2) 96-83 at Lexington.

Fourth-ranked St. Joseph's squeaked by Villanova 71-69 Sunday as Steve Donches sank a 20-foot jumper with one second left.

Bradley (No. 5) rolled to a 12-0 lead Saturday en route to 79-62 victory over Louisville.

While sixth-ranked Brigham Young lost to Wyoming Saturday, 107-101 to bring its record to 10-3.

Jimmy Walker scored 40 points, including a pair of free throws with four seconds left, to give Providence (11-1) a 79-77 triumph over Boston College Saturday and Stanford whipped the eighth-ranked Bruins (10-4) 74-68.

Tenth-ranked Kansas (13-2) shaded Iowa State 49-47 on Bob Wilson's 20-foot jumper at the buzzer.

In high-scoring performances Saturday, All-America Cazzie Russell netted 39 points to give Michigan a 93-86 victory over Northwestern, Dave Schellhaase's 38 points powered Purdue to a 91-82 triumph over Illinois and Dave Bing led Syracuse to a 90-85 decision over LaSalle with 30 points.

Casper Shoots Blazing Final Round To Win

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Billy Casper, one of golf's all-time big money-winners, carries a lot of weight in this hometown of his today, even though he's lost 35 pounds on his 5-foot-10-inch frame.

In his 14th try he finally won the San Diego Open, by firing seven-under-par 64 Sunday in the last round of the 72-hole, $40,000 event—second of the year on the PGA annual run for the riches.

Casper, born and reared here and a resident of nearby Bonita, went into the final round trailing leaders Tom Aaron and Don January by four strokes. He more than made up the difference and won by exactly four strokes to pull down first prize of $5,800.

His rounds of 70-66-68-64 totaled 268—14 under par for the riches.

Chris Blocker, a 26-year-old pro from Jal, N.M., who was second by one stroke to Bonadon midway in the tournament, finished with 277 which brought him a check for $1,480.

Casper, who is not exactly an extrovert, was a mighty happy man after his Sunday victory. "I've always wanted to win at home," he said.

Game time is 8 p.m. EST at the Bullock Creek high school gymnasium. The game will be broadcast throughout the Upper Peninsula by WDMJ-FM (95.7 meg.).

Northern, scoring at a record pace this season, is averaging a fantastic 107.2 points per game, hitting 858 points in eight games, while posting a 6-2 record. The only losses were to Bradley and Wyoming, both major colleges, in December.

The Wildcats have gone over 100 seven times, including the last six games in a row, and rank among the highest scoring teams in the nation, according to both NCAA and NAIA figures.

Leading the 'Cats is Little All-America center Gene Summers, a husky 6'4", senior, who has 236 points for a 29.5 average. A 35 point performance in NMU's 109-79 conquest of Davonport College Friday night ran Summers' career scoring to 904 points in less than two seasons.

Northwood, with a 6-3 record, is averaging 101.1, and is led by the best one-two scoring combination in the nation, Jerry Pettway and Tom Rathburn, averaging 29.8 and 28.9, respectively.

Next home games for Northern will be this Friday and Saturday in night games against Lakeland College and St. Norbert College.

Jim De-kin, president of the World Boxing Association which recognizes Terrell as champion, surprised the writers at the dinner by saying his organization "had no way of enforcing rules and regulations." He added, "Federal legislation is the only way to solve boxing's problems."

The writers also honored Jack Cuddy, retired boxing editor of United Press International, by presenting him the James J. Walker Memorial Award for distinguished service to boxing. Jersey Jones, veteran manager and American representative of world middleweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria, and Gen. Melvin L. Krulwich, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says he might not meet Ernie Terrell in his next title defense because the contender "wants to take all the money."

Clay, who Sunday received the Fighter of the Year award from the New York Boxing Writers Association, promised only nine days ago to give Terrell the next shot at the crown. But Clay said Sunday he probably will announce his next opponent at a press conference later this week.

"Terrell wants to take all the money, and I'm not willing to give it to him," Clay said after receiving his award Sunday night. "We're still negotiating with Terrell. However, my next fight could be against Doug Jones, Brian London or George Chuvalo."

Arthur Grafton, attorney for Clay's sponsoring group, was asked about the champion's

East All-Stars Stun Favorites

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The most one-sided victory in the history of the Pro Bowl today restored the pride of the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

The East All-Stars in a powerful defensive triumph turned eight pass interceptions into a 36-7 victory over the favored Western Conference team.

And the most pleased man was Cleveland Browns coach Blanton Collier, who all week couldn't let his East team forget that West teams had won 15 out of 16 games the past season from East clubs.

"All that publicity about the West's superiority got under the skins of our players," Collier said. "You can't listen to that kind of talk without responding."

Ryan At QB

But Collier said he had one big advantage over West coach Vince Lombardi in being able to use his own Cleveland team's quarterback, Frank Ryan, to guide the East.

And in a sense it was largely a Browns victory because for most of the game three of the four backs were from Cleveland. Fullback Jim Brown scored three touchdowns to tie the Pro Bowl record and for the third time was voted Back of the Game. And Cleveland flanker Gary Collins not only was the leading pass receiver with five catches for 80 yards but also averaged 45 yards on six punts.

But it was the defensive platoon, led by linebacker Dale Meinert of St. Louis, that turned the tide of the game from the start. Meinert was named Lineman of the Game. But the defensive honors also belonged to Paul Krause of the Redskins, a quartet of Dallas defensive specialists made up of Mel Renfro, Cornell Green, Chuck Howley and George Andrie, and Maxie Baughan of the Eagles.

Brodie had six passes intercepted, a Pro Bowl record.

Story Of Game

"You can't give up the ball 10 times and win," West coach Vince Lombardi said. Gruffly after the game. "You can't even give it up three times and win. That's the story of the game."

The other East touchdown was on Renfro's 20-yard runback of the sixth interception. Brodie threw Jim Bakken of the Cards kicked three field goals of 36, 41 and 42 yards.

The West averted a shutout in the final four minutes by driving 74 yards with Brodie hitting Tommy McDonald of the Rams with a 31-yard scoring pass.

The win was the first in three years for the East and only the sixth in the 16-year history of the Pro Bowl, but it restored Eastern Conference prestige.

Garden Rallies To Clip Eagles By Four Points

GARDEN — Coach Dave Pelletier's Garden Jets rang the bell with eight points in the final minute of action here Saturday night to nip Engadine, 55-51 in a non-conference cage contest.

The triumph snapped a three game losing streak for Garden and left the Jets with a 5-6 overall record. For Engadine the setback squared the season's record at 5-5.

It was a tight battle all the way with Coach Rod Carlson's Eagles leading 49-48 with a minute to go. Rod Lucas hit a field goal and Randy Peterson a free throw his first point of the game, to put Garden ahead 51-49.

Richard Ozanich popped in a field goal for Engadine and it was tied again, 51-51. But two free throws by Mike Thibault and two more by Brent Rochefort, with 10 seconds remaining, put the Jets out of reach.

Garden won it from the foul line, tossing in 19 of 32 attempts against 7 of 19 for the Eagles. Engadine outscored Garden by four field goals, 22 to 18.

Darrel LaVigne paced Garden with 17 points before fouling out with seconds to go in the third quarter. Don Saxon, 6 foot 2 inch senior, came off the bench to turn in an outstanding rebound job in the final period. Lucas helped the Garden cause with five points in the stretch.

Ozanich of Engadine took scoring honors for the night with 25 points.

Garden also won the jayvee game, 35-32.

Two Drivers Die In Crash

MONTE CARLO (UPI) — The 170 surviving cars set out in bitter cold today for the French Alpine town of Chambrey and the remaining 22 were abandoned en route.

The first women's team to finish was the Citroen No. 32 of Lucette Pointet and Francoise Houillon of France. They incurred no penalty marks, the same as most of the Lisbon finishers.

The first Monte Carlo starters to return were the Ford Taunus team of Germany's Joachim Springer and Dr. Gunther Brendel.

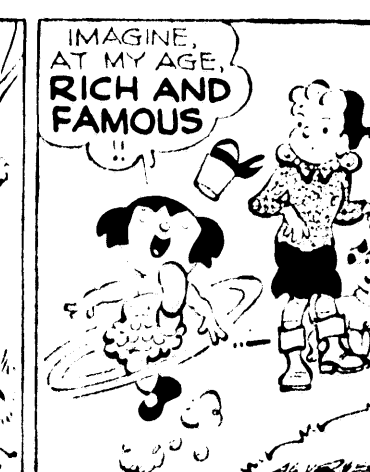

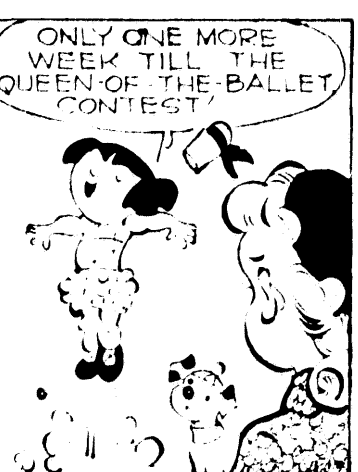

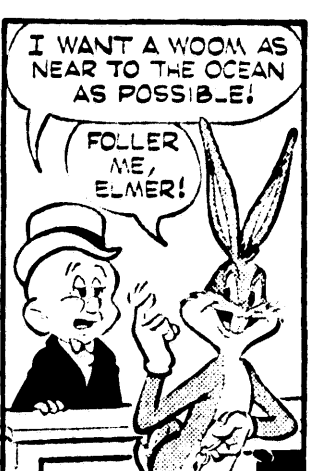

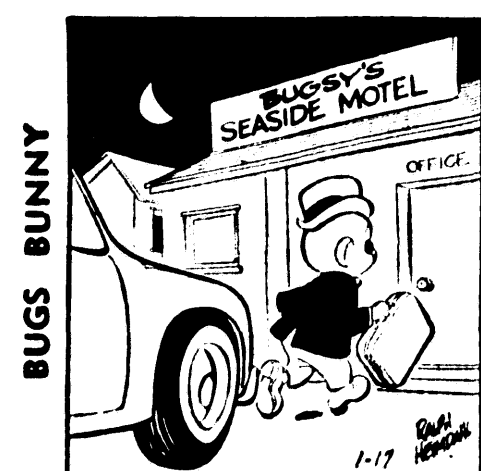

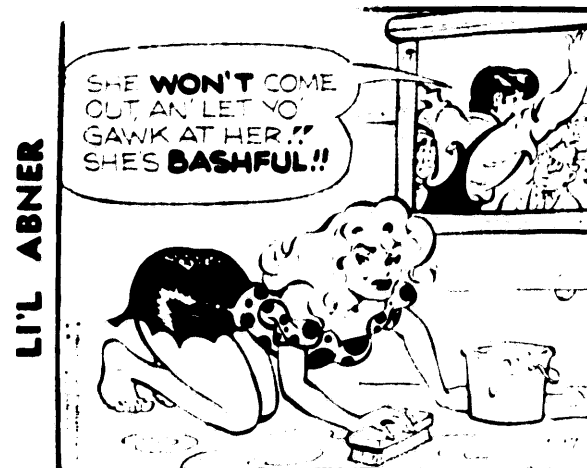

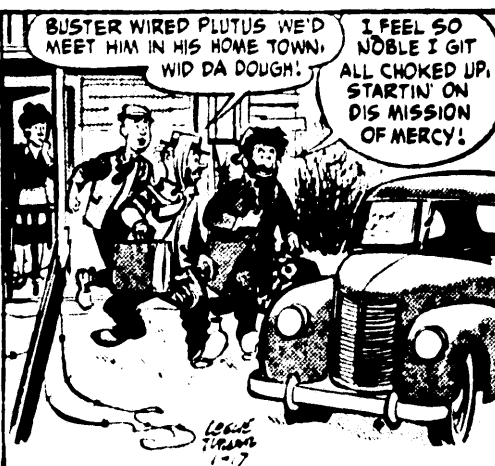

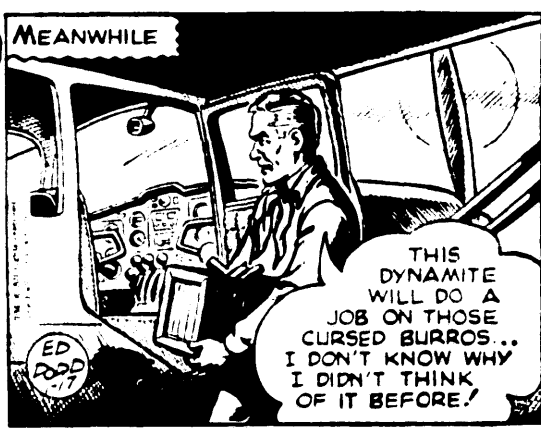

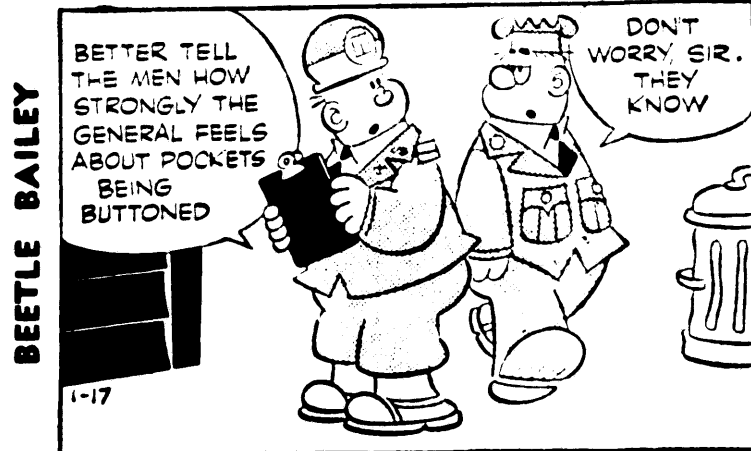

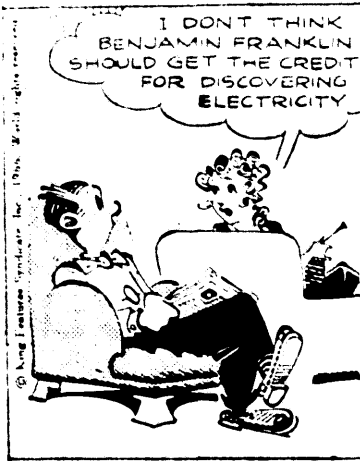

Two Spanish competitors were killed in a crash Sunday. Jose-Luis Pampyn, 35, one of Spain's best drivers, and Rafael Taravilla died in the wreckage of their Fiat 1500 which swerved off the icy road and hit a tree.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: What's so old-fashioned about a carpet sweeper?

In the old days, that's all grandmother could afford — besides a broom and a feather duster!

By using a carpet sweeper on your carpets each day (when you are too tired, or don't have time to get out the electric vacuum cleaner), it helps to keep the rugs in good condition, and is much better than not cleaning at all.

Once dirt and dust settles on TOP of a rug, isn't it much better to remove it with one of those magic-gadgets, than to leave it there for the family to walk over and grind it down into the carpet fibers?

Good Neighbor: It certainly is, good neighbor! I have often advocated, preached, and even yelled that every housewife needs a carpet sweeper and a feather duster for emergencies.

They are always good to hit the high-spots, as both top-clean quickly and with very little effort on your part.

There ARE days when it takes energy to do just "nothing," eh?

Heloise

LETTER OF TRUTH

Dear Heloise: Children would rather have a mommy who feels like smiling — than an immaculate environment with a worn-out old crank.

Ella Mae

Dear Heloise: I made baby bibs out of cotton flannel-backed oilcloth.

The bibs are washable, can be thrown in the dryer, and are absolutely safe for baby. No worry about any plastic adhering to his face.

Best of all, the bib can be washed off after each use, as one would any plastic bib.

A yard of oilcloth (cotton flannel-backed) can be purchased for about a dollar, and will make at least six bibs.

They make lovely gifts, too.

B. Lambert

Dear Heloise: I have a quick and easy way of softening brown sugar which has become hard:

I put some boiling water in the bottom of my double boiler, put the sugar in the top, then put it over the flame . . .

Be sure to place the cover on top of the double boiler. And, never put water in the top of the boiler, because you will end up with a syrup.

Marjorie Miller

And, gals, it's true. Believe it!

The sugar becomes soft again in jig time.

Heloise

Dear Heloise: If you don't have a whisk broom — and need one, try using your vacuum cleaner brush attachment.

It works fine.

Dear Heloise: In order to keep dish towels, cloths, and scouring pads out of sight when not in use, I attached a stainless steel soap dish and towel rod (both with suction cups) to the inside of the door under my sink cabinet.

Voila! A neat kitchen.

Mary Sabor

Dear Heloise: Belts for cotton dresses should be washed through suds — not water — buckle first rinsed, then dried immediately by pulling through a piece of toweling or a folded paper towel.

Then, hang the belt on a nail or hook so that the full length hangs straight.

This method helps to prevent cracks in belt backing.

Margaret B. Courtney

Dear Heloise: I save all those large potato chip cans . . .

I paint them to match my kitchen, initial (to show contents), and use as canisters to store various products.

Frances Keith

Dear Heloise: This is in answer to the "Homemaker's" inquiry about getting things done without the help of the man of the house.

She is not alone in her plight! Our coffee klatch hasn't found a way to "get things done":

Over coffee one morning, as we were discussing the problem, we came up with a very bright idea — we formed a club which we call WWDIY (Why Wait, do it yourself).

We collect no dues, hold no regular meetings, and the recipient of our services foot the bill.

If one member of the club wants her kitchen painted, she throws a party, buys the paint, etc., and the club goes to work.

The same procedure is followed when another member has a job she wants done.

Need I say — the membership of the club grows by leaps and bounds!

THE VIEW FROM THE PYRAMID—It's a breathtaking view, but you have to work to get it, as these tourists discovered. Climbing the 5,000-year-old, 481-foot Great Pyramid of the Pharaoh Cheops, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, is a high point in more ways than one of a visit to Egypt. The walk "upstairs" takes a half hour over 2 1/2-ton stone blocks, but the reward is a sweeping view of the green Nile delta merging with brown desert sands. In the background is the pyramid of Chephren, son of Cheops.

Year-Round Port

Manistique Gets Harbor Hearing

Representatives of 40 economic and governmental interests have been invited to present testimony here Wednesday, Jan. 19 at 7:30 p.m., in the courthouse at a Corps of Engineers hearing on proposed improvements in the Manistique Harbor.

The hearing is regarded as an important one in Upper Michigan as this can provide an all-year port handling iron ore shipments.

Ann Arbor ferries used the harbor last year for the shipment of pellet ore to Detroit and more is scheduled this year. Coal boats also use the harbor.

The city has asked for a consideration of a relocation of the harbor west of its present river-mouth site, to provide water which is deeper. Studies are hoped for to determine feasibility of the plan.

The Soo Line, Ann Arbor and Manistique and Lake Superior railroads, Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., Manistique Pulp and Paper Co., Girvin Coal and Dock Co., Shaw Lumber Co., Field Enterprises, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., local banks, representatives of Operation Action-U.P. and UPCA, Goodman Lumber Co., Manistique Tool and Manufacturing, Ford Motor Company, Lakehead Pipeline Co., U.S. Coast Guard, Congressmen, state legislators from the area and Governor Romney, the Michigan Department of Conservation, U.S. Forest Service, Chamber of Commerce, Michigan Department of Economic Development, city and county planning commission representatives and others have been invited to participate.

The study was authorized by the U.S. Senate committee on public works July 20, 1965.

All interested persons and organizations are invited to be present or represented. Oral statements will be heard but for accuracy of records all important facts and arguments have been asked to be submitted in writing.

NO END OF TROUBLE
PALMETTO, Fla. (AP)—Roy Jones, owner of the Palmetto Drive-In Theater, is well acquainted with trouble.

Six months ago his jeep was stolen from in front of the theater and never found. Recently thieves stole a bicycle, some barbells and croquet set from the screen tower.

A couple of weeks ago Jones reached into his mailbox for letters and out ran a snake. He narrowly avoided being bitten. Burglars recently broke into the theater snack bar and stole a projection machine lens.

A short time later two hub caps were stolen from Jones' car, parked in front of the theater.

The theater, incidentally, has been closed for some time because of highway construction.

Old, New Don't Compare:

A Tale Of Two Jails...

BY DAVE ANDREWS

The brand new jail, she ain't what the old one was. "The regulars just don't come back anymore." Joe Hillewaert, a round chap with the cheery twinkle of Santa Claus in his eye, leaned back on his modern chair in the modern office of Delta County's modern jail and chuckled. "You'd be surprised how many would take the jail rather than pay their fines when we were at the old place," he smiled. "Those same fellas pay their fines now."

As Undersheriff of Delta County for more years than he probably cares to remember, Hillewaert, Sheriff Cully Johnson and a couple of deputies are about the only carryovers from the informal camaraderie of the old jail. The new County Jail, despite its scenic location overlooking Little Bay de Noc, is a model of coldness.

Cells Isolated

Frosted windows prohibit a glance at the outside world. Cellblocks are square. Bunks are steel. Tables are bolted in to the floor. Without a calendar, it would be impossible for a prisoner to tell whether it was January or July.

Isolation.

"It's like being out in the desert," a prisoner lamented. "Once they get out they're careful not to come back anymore," Hillewaert said. "Even the stubborn ones who come in determined to serve their time are on the telephone the next day trying to raise money to pay their fines."

Even the drunks don't like it anymore.

Concrete Is Bed

Instead of a soft mattress to curl up on and "sleep it off," the bed is a concrete slab in a barren cell labeled the "tank." In the old jail, some of the "boys" used to look forward to a short stay. The jail was a roof over their heads, a hot shower and three squares a day. Hillewaert tells the story of the bum who got himself arrested a few days before Christmas one year. "Just thought I'd come in to rest up for the holidays," he told Joe. "Hot shower, a couple of meals and I'll be all set." He hasn't been back this year. "As soon as anyone came in the old jail, the little flip in the cell-block door went up," Hillewaert smiled. "They could see anyone who came in and hear the conversations. They knew everything that went on in the office."

Food Still Good

"Now they can't even hear the telephone ring." Where a gang of youths used to come in and gather around the cell-block door to talk with one of their compatriots, now only parents and close relatives are allowed to visit. Sunday afternoon is the only time. Girl friends don't qualify. About the only thing that hasn't changed is the food. "It's still good," said a trusty, who has been lodged in both jails. "We get plenty to eat."

Nevertheless, warm food can't overcome the coldness of the institution. Isolation is a frightful thing. "The regulars just don't come back anymore."

JAIL INMATE DECLINE ECONOMIC PRODUCT?

The "criminal" in Delta County may be spending more money on fines and less time in jail. That was the prevailing explanation offered by local police officers and judges of figures which show nearly a 50 per cent drop in the inmate count at the Delta County jail from 1958 through 1963. In 1957, the jail housed 685 prisoners. In successive years, the count dropped to 645, 614, 582, 510, 481, 443 and last year to 361. There is no strong indication, however, that crime has taken a vacation. Complaints to Escanaba police have showed a slight decline, but over the entire county have remained fairly stable. Arrests appear to be fairly constant from year-to-year. The decline, instead, may be a product of our booming economy. Unemployment in Delta County fell to 2.5 percent during July and August last summer, according to figures from the Michigan Employment Security Commission. It was only 2.7 per cent in September and October. In August, 1962, the per cent of the labor force unemployed was 6.3. It was 6.9 per cent in 1963, and 4.8 per cent in 1964. "Ten days in jail means between six and eight days out of work," said one police officer. "When you're working, the cost of a fine is often less than the loss of pay." At that point, the cost of a fine isn't too much to bear.

Postal Service Fees Increased

Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and C.O.D. rates to be effective March 26, 1966, were announced today by the Post Office Department. The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds revenues by $60 million annually. The fee increases would narrow the cost-revenue gap by $36 million, based on business handled in fiscal year 1965. The new fees are the first changes since 1961. The proposed fee changes appeared in today's Federal Register, and can be put into effect under existing administrative authority. No legislation is needed. The increases include: Money order fees: Domestic and international money order fees would be increased by 5 cents. Insurance fees: The minimum fee bracket would be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee would be 20 cents instead of 10 cents. Most other fees would be increased 10 cents. The maximum fee, now 40 cents, would be increased to 60 cents for values above $150 to $200. Registry fees: The present 60 cent and 75 cent fees would be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 would remain unchanged. C.O.D. fees: The present 40 cent and 50 cent fee bracket would be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10. Certified Mail: The fee would be increased 10 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 30 cents. Losses incurred in the operation of special services are paid from funds drawn from the Federal Treasury. The proposed fee increases would shift a substantial portion of the special service cost borne by the public to the users of these services.

THIS IS THE sort of thing that Michigan Tech students at Houghton do so well in their snow sculptures for the annual Winter Carnival, starting February 1.

With 85 Inches Of Snowfall

Tech's Ready For Ice Carnival

HOUGHTON — A pile of snow rarely looks like anything but a pile of snow—except on the Michigan Tech campus at this time of the year. During the next three weeks on the Tech campus piles of snow will take on shapes to conform to this year's Winter Carnival theme, "Sights In Ice." Massive snow statues, which in the past have sometimes been more than one story tall and a city block long, will transform the campus from just several acres of snow-covered earth to something resembling a creative and imaginative travelogue.

The Carnival opens Feb. 1. Besides competition with the snow statues, there will, of course, be a queen contest and coronation to decide who will reign over all Carnival activities including the biggest dance of the year, the Sno-Ball. The Norman Ladd Orchestra has been engaged to play for the Sno-Ball. A concert on Feb. 4 will feature the Mitchell Trio (which is the Chad Mitchell Trio without Chad Mitchell) and comedian Godfrey Cambridge. Also during carnival week students will compete in a variety of athletic and humorous events. Skating competition will feature the one mile, 880-yard, 440-yard, and 220-yard races; both high school and intercollegiate ski meets will be held at Mont Ripley, and snowshoe races will feature a three-man relay race and cross-country event. Novelty events include a beard contest with four categories: full beard, van dyke, combined mustache and goatee (or either one), and novelty. Other activities include the traditional dog sled race, in which six students play the roles of the dogs, and a broomball match at Dee Stadium. Broomball is almost like ice hockey except a broom replaces the hockey stick, a volleyball replaces the puck, and no one wears skates. In addition, Michigan Tech's hockey Huskies will host the University of Minnesota-Duluth in a two game series, and Tech's wrestling team is scheduled to meet the University of Minnesota-Morris in a match on February 5. So far, about 85 inches of snow has fallen on the campus and with the promise of more to come, there will be more than enough for Tech's 39th Winter Carnival.

Reds Kidnap U.S. Employee

SAIGON (UPI) — Viet Cong guerrillas today ambushed an automobile and kidnaped Douglas Ramsey, an American employee of the United States Operations Mission (USOM), Ramsey, 28, Boulder City, Nev., is the assistant USOM province officer for Hau Nghia province, immediately west of Saigon. The ambush occurred at 5:15 p.m. (4:15 a.m. EST) as Ramsey was on his way to the village of Trung Lap, 24 miles northwest of Saigon. A group of Viet Cong guerrillas fired a burst from small arms which wounded the Vietnamese driver in the leg, officials said. Ramsey got out of the car with his hands above his head and was led away by the Viet Cong. The driver managed to hitch hike a ride on a motor scooter an hour later and reported the incident to USOM authorities. A U.S. Embassy spokesman, who revealed the incident, said no further details were immediately available. Ramsey is the second USOM official to be kidnaped by the Viet Cong. Last year the Communists captured Gustav Hertz, of Brooklyn, N.Y., as he was riding a bicycle on the outskirts of Saigon. Hertz was a high-ranking civilian aid official. No word has been heard of him since his abduction.

Slicing through about 10 inches of blue ice at the Wade Corp. marine terminal at Wells, a Coast Guard cutter brought the tanker Meteor to dock over the weekend to set a new late-season record for Little Bay de Noc shipping. The 369-foot Meteor of the Cleveland Tankers Inc., brought 37,000 barrels of JP4 jet fuel to the Wade Corp. terminal to help supply the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. The Meteor had loaded at Whiting, Ind. The Coast Guard Cutter Mesquite of Sturgeon Bay arrived in the Little Bay de Noc area on Sunday to break open channels ahead of the arrival of the tanker. Waiting at Washington Island until the cutter returned, the Meteor was then escorted through Green Bay ice to Little Bay de Noc and to the Wade Corp. dock, arriving there at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. After discharging her cargo of jet fuel, the Meteor, accompanied by the cutter, cleared the harbor about 10:30 p.m. today. The operation had been without untoward incident and reflected the growing interest in maintaining year-around shipping to the Escanaba area. Monroe Bouchet, superintendent of the Wade Corp., terminal, said that Wade does not expect any additional boats this winter. BME James Silver, officer in charge of the U. S. Coast Guard light station at Escanaba, said the Meteor is "probably the last one" until navigation opens again in late March or early April.
